The California Home, Garden, and Design Show, produced by veteran home show producers, Joe Milligan, Mike Spanton and their company- World Class Shows, is coming to the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds on August 17, 18, 19. With space for 400 exhibitors from all over California, this show will be one of the largest displays of products and services needed for home improvement, design, remodeling, decorating, landscaping and gardening projects.

The host of the hit HGTV, show "Design on a Dime," Lee Snijders will be on stage at the California Home, Garden, and Design Show. Snijders' former career as a Walt Disney Imagineer taught him an important lesson: as long as you have imagination, your creativity is limitless. He'll be the first to tell you he's not your stereotypical designer; his approach to design comes from his diverse creative background. His inviting and sophisticated interiors range from classic mid-century modern and contemporary styles to his own unique tropical environments.

Brookside Gardens is happy to be bringing landscape designer Daniel Owens to the California Home, Garden, and Design Show. With over 20 years of experience working with people, plants and landscapes Daniel has been trained in both architecture and horticulture and has a Feng Shui certification which helps explain his wonderful approach to his designs. Brookside Gardens is also awarding one lucky attendee at the California Home, Garden, and Design Show with an extreme backyard makeover including a deluxe Koi Pond, a waterfall, and landscaping worth more than $16,000.00.

Another unique attraction of the California Home, Garden, and Design Show will be an expansive antique appraisal under the direction of Steven Yvaska. Steven is the antique columnist of the San Jose Mercury News and has been writing in the newspaper's Home and Garden section for twelve years. A Boston native, Steven graduated from Syracuse University with a BA and Masters in Decorative Arts. He has lectured widely and taught classes at both the university and college level.

Also scheduled to appear are the talented chefs of the American Culinary Federation including their president Jay Marshall. Enjoy free gourmet food and see special cooking demonstrations at the California Home, Garden, and Design Show.
